Interest In Election Is Mounting Here

Election interest in Calloway County has increased over the past several weeks, with emphasis on the governor's race. More interest is being taken in this year than in many past elections.

Both Bert Combs and Happy Chandler have ardent supporters in the county, and some political observers report that the county will be more divided on this race than any in recent years.

There will also be local interest in city races, with the one of the largest turnouts for city council in the history of the city.

Twelve persons have announced their intentions to run for the six city council positions.

They are William M. "Bill" Whitnell, Roy "Pete" Farmer, Frank Lancaster, T. Sled, Darrell Shoenemaker, John Packer, Stup Wilson, Eli Guy Spain, Guy Billington, Gayton Thurman, Jr., Curle Wayne Doran, and R. Burgess Parker.

Incumbent councilmen making the race are Shoemaker, Wilson, Billington, Thurman and Burgess Parker. Earl Littleton, the other councilman now in office is not running for re-election.

Owen Billington is running for re-election as representative from this district, which includes Calloway County. His opponent is Gar-
End News.

The city judge's office has a number of candidates also. City Judge Bob McCusick is making the race again. He has held the office since the death of Judge C. T. Rushing, receiving his appointment to the office from Governor Wetherby.

Others in this race are John W. Clifton, J. Rudy Oury and Elias Robertson.

Fish Biting On The Lake

FRANKFORT, June 24 (AP) — The state Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources reported today that cooler water temperatures in Kentucky's lakes are bringing good catches of crappie and bass.

The department said reports indicated that the fish are not biting during the day as well as they are at night since water temperatures in the lakes reached about 80 degrees.

Lake Cumberland reported bass catches were being made in the late afternoon and night mostly by casting with jumpy fishing, improving and crappie angling rated as the best bet.

Striped bass taken in the jumps of Kentucky Lakes was rated fair to good with some black bass caught by casting the points and crappie taken below the dam.

Fishing was rated as slow at Harrington Lake where crappie, white bass and bluegill were being caught at night near the shore. Crappie was the best catch at Dale Hollow with some bass taken in the jumps. Dewey Lake offered bluegill and some bass taken near the banks.

Son Of Stove Plant Employee Wins Scholarship

Merle Moore, son of Olin F. Moore of North 16th street Murray, has been awarded the Walter P. Murphy scholarship in the Northwestern University Technological Institute. It has been announced by Assistant Dean George F. Seuberg.

Young Moore lives at 137 Ohio Street in Mansfield, Ohio. The scholarship represents the highest award given to an incoming freshman in the Technological Institute where Merle will enroll next fall. He plans to major in civil engineering.

Moore, who graduated this spring from high school, obtained a straight A scholastic record, and had one of the outstanding high school transcripts ever submitted to the institute, according to Dean Seuberg.

In addition to excelling in scholarship, Merle starred on the Mansfield Senior High School football team as a tackle. He will be a member of the Northwestern freshman team in the fall. He was also a weightman on the Tiger track team.

Combs Calls On Chandler To Allow Income Tax Check

HARRODSBURG, June 24 (AP) — Bert T. Combs today called on his opponent for the Democratic nomination for Governor, A. B. Chandler, to follow his example and authorize an examination of his income tax returns.

Combs, who made campaign stops here and at Hodgenville and Cave City Thursday, announced that he had informed the Internal Revenue Service that his income tax return should be made available for inspection.

He said similar actions had been made by Gov. Lawrence W. Wetherby, Lt. Gov. Emerson Beauchamp, Sen. Earle C. Clements D-Ky and state Conservation Commissioner Henry Ward.

With the action, Combs joined the running battle that has been in progress for the past month between Chandler and Ward.

Ward, under attack from Chandler on the granting of courtesy cards to free food and lodging, challenged Chandler June 8 to permit an examination of his income tax returns.

Chandler forces countered with a proposal that Chandler would disclose his income tax returns if Ward, Wetherby, Clements and other state officials would do likewise.

Forrest Pogue Good Game Gives Talk Scheduled To Rotarians

Dr. Forrest Pogue, historian and professor at Murray State College, was the speaker yesterday at the regular meeting of the Murray Rotary Club. He was introduced by Herschel Corn.

Dr. Pogue chose as his subject the story of an army officer whom he interviewed ten years ago in Europe. The officer, then a platoon leader in the First Division, was leader of the first platoon which landed on D-Day on Omaha Beach in France.

Dr. Pogue recounted the story of the officer from the time that he landed until the end of the war. The story, he said, reveals the inherent humor in the American soldier and his willingness to fight for a purpose.

The assembled Rotarians enjoyed Dr. Pogue's vivid telling of the landing on Omaha Beach, eleven years ago.

A number of Rotarians from other cities were present yesterday. From Paris, Tennessee Lon Jackson, Dwight Norman, and Ted Stone were guests.

Guest of Verne Kyle was Camilo Borromeu of Manila, Philippines. Mr. Borromeu is studying the manufacture of gas ranges at the Murray Manufacturing Company.

Solon Hale was the guest of his father, Vernon Hale. Hiram Tucker had as his guest Brown Tucker.

Next week two new Rotarians will be initiated into the club and Paul T. Lyles will give one of the accomplishments of Rotary during the past year. Hiram Tucker will preside as president of Rotary for the last time this Rotary year. Holmes Ellis, president-elect, will begin his duties the first Thursday in July.

Simple Method Of Ending World Tension Spelled Out

By GEORGE COFFEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
SAN FRANCISCO, June 24 —

U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles told Soviet Russia today in polite but blunt language — the price the free world wants for stopping the cold war.

Dulles spelled out his "extremely simple method" of ending international tension in a speech prepared for delivery at the 10th anniversary meeting of the United Nations, it was:

1. Observe the charter of the United Nations.
2. Refrain from using force or threatening to use force in dealing with other countries.
3. Refrain from supporting and directing subversive activities in other countries.

"To bring the cold war to an end, seven points are not needed," Dulles said in an allusion to the seven-point "peace program" proposed by Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov in Wednesday.

"This one is sufficient. It is in that spirit that we go to Geneva, and we hope to find that spirit shared."

Lists "Encouraging" Developments
Dulles touched on many subjects, ranging from the "future" of the world to the need for collective security, "encouraging" developments in Korea, Indochina, Austria and Yugoslavia, and Soviet gestures toward Western Germany and Japan, and the problems still remaining to be solved.

In dealing with the last point, Dulles minced no words. He listed the problems as Germany, the satellite countries of Eastern Europe, Communist China, international

Father Takes "Take A Boy Fishing" To Heart

No day could be better than last Saturday for taking a boy fishing. Josiah Darnell, of 1311 Poplar here in Murray, took his young son Robert out to get the feel of Big Lake fishing. The father-son picture at left shows his luck. At right, Robert is holding the big 5 1/2 ounce bluegill that he has entered in the Ledger and Times Fishing Contest. The fish puts him in the Grand Prize Leadership spot this week. The full success story is in the Fishing Report.

Twelve new entries were made in the Fishing Contest this week, eight of them through the Morgan and Allbritton Grocery on the Concord Highway, and the other four through the Ledger and Times Office. The new entries gave a decided edge to Leonard Wood, who was already in the Grand Prize lead for the Class A Division. New entries also altered the Class B Grand Prize lead taking it away from Mrs. T. H. Chick and giving it to young Robert Darnell.

Wood entered five fish to cover first place in the artificial crappie division and the first and second place in the bluegill and striped bass divisions. Wood's wife entered two bluegill, but not quickly enough nor with enough weight to capture 1st place in that division. (See Fish Contest Standings in this section).

The red and black Brim Gnat accounted for the bluegills caught by Leonard and his wife Anna. Fished from a flyrod the little bait netted fish after fish. Her entries weighed 5 1/2 and 5 ounces for Leonard, and 5 1/2 and 5 for Anna. All the bluegills were caught in Bailey and Shannon Creeks and measured from 5 to 8 inches in length.

Leonard's crappie and striped bass were taken on a spinner ahead of a white fly. Even though, as most of the stripes being taken now, the stripes were under a pound in weight Wood said he recognized the value of getting the entries in and that he intends to enter larger stripes soon. Both of the husband and wife team caught loads of fish during the course of the day, they selected the largest to enter in the contest.

Wood now leads the Class A division with 185 points.

Josiah Darnell took his youngest son Robert fishing with him last Saturday and they really got into the bluegill. Both of them entered their two largest fish, but only to have three of them topped by a few ounces two days later. Robert however managed to get into the top leadership position for the Class B division with his 5 1/2 ounce entry and the help of 10 extra points for the picture in today's fishing section.

The Darnell's were doing their fishing in Ledbetter Creek, out of the Kenlake boat dock. Bill Nall, manager of the dock, commended Robert's father for his interest in taking young Robert fishing and offered to point out the "very best fishing spots" to anyone bringing a boy or girl to the lake to fish for the scrappy bluegill.

Fishing is one of the cleanest sports that anybody can engage in and it is ideal for boys and girls. Fishing is clean, healthful and it gives you something tangible to take home, fish for the skillet and supper. Let us encourage you again to TAKE A BOY OR GIRL FISHING this weekend.

From all reports this weekend promises to be one of the best ever for fishing in Kentucky lake. The mayflies are hatching, stripes are in the jumps and anyone can get their limit if they half try.

There has been some discussion as to the creel limit on bluegill. According to all the pamphlets issued by the department of Fish and Wildlife Resources that we have in our possession the bluegill is not even listed in the creel limits. Therefore is NO CREEL LIMIT on bluegill. You may catch a wash tub full, if you can that is.

Richard Armstrong, of Murray Route 1, entered a largemouth bass in the Class A division of the Fishing Contest. The fish weighed 4 lb. 9 oz. was 20 1/2 inches long and 16 inches in the girth. It was caught on a Hawaiian Wiggler in the lake close to New Concord. The fish, a nice one, was not quite heavy enough to dislodge the present holders of first and second place in this division.

According to Carlton Morgan, there were several who got their limit of stripe bass this week while fishing with red and white spoons and the white baby pants jig. Ralph, Ray, Marvin Harris, Elmes Outland, Steve Sanders, Hugh Graves Massey and Everett Massey. Carlton reported that he caught the limit of 15 bass twice this week. Everett Massey stated in the story Tuesday that Steve and Hugh were only 13 years old and that the 20 stripes they caught gave them a great thrill. The thirty fish weighed over nineteen pounds and all were taken in Bailey Creek in June.

It seems that the stripes are in three jumps, very definitely, but that most of them are the small yellow stripes and that the big white ones have as yet not been surfacing.

Bill Nally weekly report, told that the "Willow on May" flies have covered the lake during the past few days and all fishing, with the possible exception of crappie, has been greatly accelerated. Small strings of both largemouth and stripes are not uncommon and fishing traffic has increased. The pool stage of 35° is one foot below the summer top of 35° and is on a slow decline. The water is clearer and warmer than that of last week.

He tells of the following that limited or made good catches at the Kenlake dock and in the Eggers Ferry Bridge area on the main lake.

Straling Holloway and wife of Madisonville took 35 striped bass on spinners. Don Atkins and Tom Tucker of Boonville Indiana took 24 Strippers on spinners. E. T. Durrett of Providence took 18 large Crappie on minnows while fishing in 6 to 8 feet of water. Dr. Leo A. Will and friend of St. Louis caught 14 largemouth on surface plugs. V. A. Brien of Benton caught his largemouth limit on surface plugs. Additional largemouth limits were taken by Radford Conner, Ross Kink and Raul Greer, all of Hardin, Kentucky.

Some of the best fishing has been taking place late in the

Regal...by

This has been a fact for generations: No glassware sparks up a table setting quite so brilliantly as cut crystal and it's true of contemporary designs as well as traditional. Witness Regal, a beautiful hand-cutting by Fostoria. The shape is low and modern; the cutting is simple, tasteful, up-to-date. For yourself, or for a brilliant gift, come see open-stock Regal.

Upchurch-Shelby Wedding Vows Performed In Beautiful Setting Saturday Evening At The First Baptist Church In Murray

In an exquisite setting of flowers and candelabra in the sanctuary of the First Baptist Church in Murray the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Fay Upchurch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Upchurch of Murray, to Mr. Charles P. Shelby of Dallas, Texas, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Shelby, Sr. of Waco, Texas, was solemnized.

Rev. Paul T. Lyles, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Murray, performed the double ring ceremony on Saturday, June 18, at six o'clock in the evening before an assembly of relatives and friends.

The vows were spoken as the couple stood under the white wrought iron arch entwined with garlands of ferns and candelabra. The altar was decorated with a centerpiece of white gladioli, northern garden peonies, and white stock. Massive arrangements of the same flowers were used on either side of the altar against a background of palms. The chancel was outlined with carnation trees and white calladium leaves. The baptistry was adorned with a magnificent arrangement of gladioli, peonies, and stock. Burning tapers further enhanced the wedding scene and the pews were marked with flowers and ferns.

As the guests assembled, a program of nuptial music was presented by Miss Lillian Waters, organist, and Mr. Harry Hampshire, vocalist. The organ played "Love's Old Sweet Song," "Liebestraum," "I Love You Truly," "Calm As The Night," and "Because." During the ceremony she softly played "Meditation." Mr. Hampshire's selections were "I Love Thee," "Oh Perfect Love," and "The Lord Bless Thee" for the benediction. The traditional wedding marches were used for the processional and the recessional.

Bride's Dress
Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an embroidered floor-length organza gown fashioned with a scalloped neckline, fitted bodice and short sleeves. The full two-layer skirt was worn over hoops and her finger-ring veil of illusion was attached to her bonnet shaped headpiece of pleated illusion. Short white gloves completed her ensemble. The bride's dress was worn by her sister, Mrs. Jack Kahn, at her wedding.

Attendants
Attending the bride were Mrs. Jack Kahn of Oak Ridge, Tenn., matron of honor; Miss George Ann Upchurch of Dallas, Texas, sister of the bride, maid of honor; and Miss Connie Walker of Fort Wayne, Ind., bridesmaid.

The attendants wore identical street length dresses of aqua cotton satin fashioned with long torso fitted waists and very full skirts. They wore matching shoes and headpieces of matching material to which pearls were attached. They also wore short white gloves and carried large arm bouquets of pink delight roses and ivy.

Mr. Roy Shelby of Dallas, Texas, brother of the bridegroom, served as bestman. The groomsmen were Messrs Jack Kahn of Oak Ridge, Tenn., Joe M. Ward of Nashville, Tenn., Bill Houston of Dallas, Texas, and Pat Lester, of Holly Springs, Miss.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Upchurch wore a dress of mauve lace with a Periwinkle velvet hat and other accessories of navy. Mrs. Walter Jarrott of San Antonio, Texas, sister of the bridegroom was attired in a powder blue lace frock with a blue velvet hat and matching accessories. They both wore corsages of sweetheart roses.

Reception
Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Murray Woman's Club House.

The bride's table was covered with a pink satin cloth overlaid with illusion. Unusual in its design was the triangle shaped table with the wedding cake at one point and the punch bowls at the other two points. The central decoration was the beautiful massive candle tree surrounded with delphinium, pink carnations, pink delight roses, and peonies. Flanked by the three-branched silver candelabra holding burning pink tapers. Garlands of string smilax and gardenias outlined the punch bowls. A duplicate of the bride's bouquet was placed on the five-tiered wedding cake which was outlined with string smilax and fleur-de amour gardenias.

Pinky Lee Hurt By TV Comics

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD — Pinky Lee said today he's "hurt" because other TV comics are making fun of him.

Pinky is the ex-burlesque comedian who, as he says, "plodded along gradually, underpaid and under-estimated" until he suddenly became a star of an NBC-TV children's program.

On this show Pinky does a fast dance in his checkered suit, lipps to the kiddies and has their mamas playing games such as breaking balloons.

By now Pinky has a high rating and a new house on a high mountain, and his success has brought forth a rash of "Pinky Lee" jokes from his former colleagues of vaudeville and smoke-filled night clubs.

"Gee, it's belittling. It makes you feel like a disgrace," he said.

Comedians Rib Him
"At a comedians' dinner in Philadelphia, Milton Berle said, 'If a bomb fell on the place Pinky Lee would be a big star.' At the Emmy awards, Steve Allen said, 'The wanted an emcee who wouldn't win an award, so it had to be either me or Pinky Lee.'"

"Now that's cruel. It hurt me," he added firmly, "as long as they aren't malicious."

Pinky sat in the Brown Derby and beamed while autograph hounds, head waiters and well-wishers surged around him.

"A lot of actors and critics don't accept me because I'm from the old school of comedy," he lipped. "My lip isn't put on—it's an impediment. Some critics resent me because I've saved my money and raised a family, too."

Remembers Nasty Remarks
Pinky meditated a moment and then leaned over the table.

"Some comics say, 'When are you going to get funny?'" he admitted, "I don't try to be funny. Why, very seldom do I do anything funny on the show."

Pinky has been in the up-and-down, heart-breaking world of show business since he was five, and "I've had some awful flops."

"In 1947 I appeared at the Harlem Club in New York and I got such a terrible, unmerciful panning from the columnists—I wanted to commit suicide," he said.

"I lost 15 pounds in two days. I wanted to die. I did. Oh, I walked the streets all night. One day I saw Red Buttons and he said, 'I saw your show and do you know what I think?' I said, 'what?'"

"Reg said, 'You stink,' and he walked away. Gee, I cried. 'I've always been second fiddle,' the little comedian said. 'That makes the prize much sweeter. I earned it the hard way.'"

Most of the nation's dry cleaners are expected to display the poster during the period from June 1 to 11, offering to dry clean all American flags without charge provided they are flown on Flag Day, June 14. A. O. Thalacker of Detroit, Mich., president of the Detrex Corporation, maker of dry cleaning equipment, (at left) is showing the 1955 poster to James F. Daniel, Jr., Greenville, S. C., chairman of the National American Commission of The American Legion. The free flag cleaning service is a feature of the "New Glory for Old Glory" program of The American Legion and Detrex to bring about a record display of the national colors on Flag Day.

Movies To Take Real Shot At TV

By VERNON SCOTT
United Press Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD — The movies take their first real shot at television next fall when 20th Century-Fox throws its hat into the ring with a weekly takeoff on its highly successful movie "My Friend Flicka."

Fox also will produce a dramatic series titled the "Ge-Tee Show"—translation: "General Electric 20th Century-Fox Show."

"Ge-Tee" is going to move in and give the people top quality pictures instead of the material they've been getting on TV," says TCF Chief Sid Rogell.

TV Here To Stay
"We've finally come around to the point of view that television is here to stay, so we got together the finest men, artists and technicians in the business."

The studio spent 2 million dollars revamping its old Western Avenue lot into a modern television studio with 14 sound stages. Main studio back lots, lakes and location sites also are open for TV use.

"If the maw of TV can ever be filled," Rogell went on, "it is the answer. TV shows ought to be filmed in Hollywood. We can afford to put more money in filmed shows because they can be rerun. More money means better pictures."

TCF, for example, is spending down, heart-breaking world of show business since he was five, and "I've had some awful flops."
